

New Membership Rates and Benefits

The North Carolina Museums Council's new Finance Committee has recently reviewed and updated our membership fees and benefits. After surveying numerous State Museum Associations across the county, our finance committee recommended adjustments to our current membership tiers, fees, and benefits for all membership levels.

In an effort to make sure NCMC is affordable to professionals at all levels of their career path, we have expanded our individual membership tiers to include new low membership rates for volunteers and retirees, as well as maintaining a low student rate. We have added new individual membership tiers Dogwood ($100) and Cardinal ($200) for those wanting to contribute more to help NCMC accomplish its goal to "Building Better Museums Together." No matter what level of individual membership you have, everyone receives the same member benefits.

We are committed to making membership affordable and beneficial to museums of all sizes and budgets. We were able to keep our Tier 1, those with the smallest operating budget the same, but other rates have increased.

This increase in membership fees will help NCMC to provide scholarships, professional development, award, advocacy, and support for our state's museums and museum professionals. Know that the North Carolina Museums Council is dedicated to helping all our museums and is 100% operated by a volunteer board. Your financial support, through membership dues, goes right back to our North Carolina museums and professionals. NCMC would be incapable of operating without your continued support. Thank you for your continued membership.
