

NCMC Programs Committee Reimagined 2023/2024

This year the board of the NC Museum Council is reenvisioning our Programs Committee. We hope to build a group of dedicated museum professionals who represent varying career levels and disciplines across the state. The new vision of the program committee is to review annual conference session proposals, assist with the organization of the programmatic offerings, and work with the new Region Chairs on the creation of in-person workshops. The group will be led by the Professional Development Chair and Vice Chair, who work closely together in the organization of the committee.

The volunteer committee will meet in October with a primary focus on reviewing and selecting sessions for the 2024 conference. Throughout the year, the committee will work with the 4 region chairs to plan 1 yearly workshops for NCMC members. The committee will also be required to attend the annual conference. While there is travel, time, and cost potential involved this reimaged committee will help to unite and create connections to museum professionals across the state. These participants will be considered growing leaders within NCMC and is an excellent way to get involved.

This will be a two year commitment (2023-2025) with 8 required meetings on Tuesdays and possible monthly check-ins.
